AIMS

- Find out which brands are more ethical than others.
- Have some serious fun in the process!

INSTRUCTIONS

1. MAKE YOUR CARDS

- Download the report
- Go to page 57 and find some familiar brands, making a note of the companies who own them
- Add a photo or sketch to a card of one of the clothing items you've chosen
- Find the grades for Overall, Policies, Knowing Your Suppliers, Auditing & Supplier Relationships and Worker Empowerment in the Executive Summary and add them to your card.
- Make more and play with your friends
- Show us your game by tweeting photos of your cards and match reports using #FashionRevolution

2. PLAY THE GAME

- Once you have enough cards, shuffle the pack and deal them out, face down
- The player to the right of the dealer starts - choosing a category from their first card and calling out the grade (e.g. 'Policies A-')
- The other players call out their first card's grades for that category and the one with the highest grade takes them all (and puts them at the bottom of their pile of cards)
- If two players have the same grade, the first player takes their next card and calls another grade until a player wins that round, and all of its cards
- The winner of each round chooses the category for the next round and calls first
- The game ends when one player has won all of the cards

3. CATEGORIES & KEY TERMS

- POLICIES / Does the company or brand publicly state that it does not allow forced labour and child labour in its supply chain, allows freedom of association and makes provisions for worker health and safety?
- KNOWING YOUR SUPPLIERS / How much of the company's / brand's supply chains does it trace? Does it know where its clothes are made so that its policies are put into practice there
- AUDITING AND SUPPLIER RELATIONSHIPS / How well do the company's / brand's monitoring processes ensure that its policies are working and factory conditions are being improved
- WORKERS EMPOWERMENT / Are the people who make the company's / brand's clothes able to join democratic trade unions, engage in collective bargaining, and enjoy effective grievance mechanisms?

Have you ever thought about the lives of the people involved in making your favourite clothes?
